Editor's notes...

AUGUST 2022

Brett Shohet, Editor

Hello and welcome to this month's edition of VISIONEppingTheydon.

I'm happy to say that VISION is now going from strength to strength after the difficulties we've all had to face over the last couple of years.

The main thing I want to talk about this month is visibility, which is so important in business. If a potential customer doesn't know your number, how are they going to contact you? Do you think your phone will ring more or less often if you invest in advertising?

I was lucky enough to recently attend the Grand Prix, where I couldn't help but notice that the brands who splashed out on advertising at the event included Rolex and Coca-Cola. Despite international fame, these brands still set part of their budget aside for advertising in print and on TV, radio and billboards.

These multimillion-pound companies know it doesn't pay to be complacent. Advertising gives you the opportunity to stand out from your competitors and to get yourselves seen, and if Coca-Cola says it's worth doing, who are we to say differently?

Finally, as the weather continues to heat up, make sure to check in with your neighbours to see if there is anything you can do to help. Let's not lose that sense of community that was forged in the fires of lockdown.

Brett Shohet

THE AMAZING IMPACT DAME DEBORAH JAMES DBE HAD ON OUR AWARENESS OF BOWEL CANCER, AND THE COURAGE TO FIGHT THIS DISEASE

It's a marker to the strength and resilience of Dame Deborah James DBE that, even in her final days fighting against cancer, she was still able to laughingly refer to herself by a nickname that had done more than just provide a natty piece of alliteration for headline writers.

The self-confessed Bowel Babe, Dame Deborah James, had immersed herself in a wholly public battle with cancer after being diagnosed with the illness back in 2016. She was just 35 at the time. When she received the news that she had stage 4 bowel cancer, Deborah immediately threw herself into work as a patron for Bowel Cancer UK.

And rather than recoil at the shock of the news, Deborah, who at the time was working as a teacher at The Matthew Arnold School in Staines-upon-Thames, found incredible support across social media. Her outspoken voice was picked up by The Sun, for whom she began working as a journalist and columnist.

BBC 5Live stepped in shortly afterwards to take on her original, no-holds-barred podcast, entitled You, Me and the Big C, with its unapologetic, graphic and unrelenting portrayal of the many elements of cancer gaining admirers from all quarters.

'Find a life worth enjoying; take risks, love deeply, have no regrets, and always, always have rebellious hope. And finally, check your poo—it could just save your life'

In October 2018, her book, *F*** You Cancer: How to Face the Big C, Live Your Life and Still Be Yourself*, became a cult read. However, while she publicly continued to show strength and courage, the scourge of her disease sometimes made the easiest parts of everyday life difficult.

Two years on, she revealed that her body's tolerance to the drugs was waning. By May 2022, she posted on social media that she was receiving hospice-at-home care and was, ultimately, entering the final stages of the disease. Within 48 hours, more than £3million had been raised for her Bowel Babe campaign, and just two days after that she was awarded the title Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire. Her damehood was conferred on her by Prince William, Duke of Cambridge, at her parental home.

Dame Deborah passed away on June 28, 2022, leaving behind a husband and two children. At the time of her death, she had raised a colossal £7million to fund clinical trials and research into personalised medicine for cancer patients, and to support campaigns raising awareness of bowel cancer.

This inspirational person used her platform to put perhaps the most candid slant on cancer treatment we have ever seen in the public space. As she said: "Find a life worth enjoying; take risks, love deeply, have no regrets, and always, always have rebellious hope. And finally, check your poo – it could just save your life."

Neighbours ...NO LONGER

IT'S THE SOAP OPERA THAT PERMEATED BRITISH CULTURE – AND OUR POP CHARTS – LIKE NO OTHER, BUT THE RAMSAY STREET ERA IS APPROACHING AN END

Some of us are old enough to remember the early episodes of Neighbours in the UK, when a sparky mechanic named Charlene (AKA future global superstar Kylie Minogue) was caught apparently breaking and entering the home of Madge Bishop by her son, Scott (Jason Donovan, no less).

As the storylines unfolded, so the characters became part of our teatime routines, as Aussie life seemed a sun-drenched fantasy world that became all the more accessible as its stars swapped Erinsborough for record contracts and model photoshoots in London.

When the Reg Watson-produced series was first picked up by the BBC in 1986, the UK was some 18 months behind episodes being created Down Under, yet such was the efficiency of the team in Melbourne that it would take three years for UK viewers to catch up.

The success was extraordinary, however. At its peak, 16 million UK viewers watched the daily lives of these cool kids and their parents – that's more than the population of Australia.

Yet the advent of the internet brought a new era of TV consumption, where viewers no longer wanted to be tied by time. In 2008, the BBC gave up the rights to Neighbours, and only Channel 5's interest kept production alive in Australia.

When Channel 5 stated its aim to end the commitment, the death knell finally sounded in Ramsay Street.

Across almost 9,000 episodes, hundreds of stars – including Margot Robbie, Holly Valance, Guy Pearce, Liam Hemsworth, Natalie Imbruglia and more – have gone on to impressive careers in entertainment, and with an instantly recognisable theme tune, Neighbours has occupied a special place in our hearts.

And there was no better way to go out than to see Kylie, Jason and a host of other alumni return on July 29 for a special reunion show.

Fair dinkum!

Pineapple Perfection

Pineapple skincare is all the rage, with many well-known beauty brands bringing out their own range of products containing this nutrient-rich fruit.

Why is pineapple good for your skin?

- > It contains antioxidants that protect against free radicals
- > It contains bromelain, which has anti-inflammatory and antibacterial effects
- > It can gently exfoliate the skin and remove dead skin cells
- > It has a high water content so can hydrate the skin
- > It can clear up acne and prevent future breakouts
- > It can be used to stimulate collagen production.

DIY pineapple face masks

Mask for oily skin

You will need: 1 tbsp pineapple purée | 2 tsp raw honey | 2 tsp oatmeal powder

How to make and apply: Mix the ingredients in a bowl to make a smooth paste | Apply to a clean face and leave for 10-15 minutes | Rinse and apply a lightweight face moisturiser.

Mask for acne-prone skin

You will need: 1 tbsp of pineapple purée | 3 tsp rose water | 2 tsp oatmeal powder

How to make and apply: Mix the purée and rose water together in a bowl | Gradually add the oatmeal powder until you have a smooth paste | Wash your face and apply while skin is still slightly damp | Leave on for 10 minutes | Wash off with warm water and a gentle cleanser.

Mask for dry/dehydrated skin

You will need: 1 tbsp pineapple purée | 2 tsp cucumber purée | 1 tsp rosehip seed oil

How to make and apply: Mix the pineapple and cucumber purée together in a bowl | Add the rosehip oil and mix again | Wash your face with a gentle cleanser and apply the mask | Leave on for 15 minutes and, during that time, regularly apply more of the mixture | Wash off the mask and apply a face cream.

LEARN HOW TO Colour BLOCK

Not heard of colour blocking? You're in for a treat. Offering a fun and vibrant way to express your style personality, read on to discover everything you need to know about how to wear this trend.

What is colour blocking?

Colour blocking involves the use of block colour in your outfit to create bold and eye-catching looks. It can be rocked by people of all ages, skin tones and body types.

Three ways to use colour blocking

1. Monochromatic: To get the monochromatic look, you need to pick one colour and then layer different shades and tones of it. This is a great choice for people who have a favourite colour or those who know that one specific shade suits them best. It is also ideal for fashionistas who prefer a more understated look.

2. From the same colour family: If you want to be a bit bolder in your look, then you can choose different colours from the same colour family. For example, purple, green and blue shades come from one colour family and yellow, orange and red are from another. When colour blocking this way, choose one side of the rainbow and stick with it.

3. Contrasting tones: The brightest and boldest of the three colour blocking techniques, contrasting colours are the way to go if you want to create a 'look at me' vibe. This involves choosing colours from opposite ends of the colour wheel, such as blue and orange, or yellow and purple. Be warned: this can be tricky to get right, but if in doubt, choose a saturated colour and block it with a softer shade rather than two opposing vivid colours.

How's it HANGING?

Have you ever tried exercising upside down? Also referred to as an inversion, there are many physical and mental health benefits to upside-down exercises. Discover them below.

1. ENHANCED MENTAL FOCUS

When you hang upside down, oxygen-rich blood flows directly to your brain. Although it may feel weird at first, as you adjust, you should start to experience better brain function and enhanced mental focus.

2. TO TREAT BACK AND JOINT ISSUES

Inversions are the ideal exercise for back and load-bearing joint issues as they help to reverse the harmful effects of gravity. Focus on straight alignment exercises such as headstands and handstands and you should notice a significant improvement.

3. REDUCED STRESS LEVELS

If you suffer with unhealthy levels of stress, then upside-down exercises can help you to unwind and relax. Enabling you to let go of any negative thoughts and feelings, even 10 minutes a day of inversion exercises can make you feel less stressed.

4. STRENGTHENED CORE MUSCLES

Upside-down exercises can help to push your body out of its comfort zone as many different muscle groups are needed to hold these types of positions. As well as strengthening your core, inversions can help to improve your balance, flexibility and posture.

5. POSITIVE INFLUENCE ON ALL FOUR BODY SYSTEMS

When you carry out inverted exercises, you can enjoy a positive effect on all the four main systems within the body. These are the cardiovascular system, the lymphatic system, the nervous system and the endocrine system.

BEST UPSIDE-DOWN EXERCISES TO TRY:

- > Headstand – this requires you to activate your core and builds upper body strength
- > Forearm stand – this pose builds strength and needs a lot of mental focus
- > Handstand – this requires concentration, technique, strength and flexibility. It can be done against a wall to give you more stability
- > Plough pose – this can relieve tension in the neck, shoulders and back
- > Inverted V plank – this tones your core and improves stability and flexibility.

YOU SHOULD NOT DO INVERSIONS IF YOU HAVE:

High blood pressure | A heart condition | Glaucoma | A back or leg fracture | Osteoporosis | A hernia | You are pregnant, obese or overweight.

MAKING FRIENDS later in life

While it can be easy to make friends at school, it can become increasingly difficult to reach out and meet new people as you get older. Here are five ways to begin making new friends.

1. TAKE UP A NEW HOBBY

If you often feel bored as well as lonely, then why not kill two birds with one stone and take up a new hobby? Whether you fancy trying a local painting class, would enjoy a book club, or want something more physically challenging, partaking in a new hobby offers many opportunities to make new friends.

2. PUT YOURSELF OUT THERE

New friends are not going to knock on your door and introduce themselves, so you need to take the initiative to actively seek out new friendships. This could be by sparking up a conversation with someone new or by inviting an acquaintance on an outing. If you have mobility issues, Age UK offers transport services for the elderly and disabled. Call the charity's free, confidential advice helpline on 0800 678 1602 to find out about local services.

3. JOIN A VOLUNTEER GROUP

For those who need a little bit more time to get to know people, a volunteer group or community project allows you to gradually build up a rapport over time. This can also help you to build deeper friendships. Try reaching out to your local community centre to find out how you can get involved.

4. GO ONLINE

There are so many ways that you can meet people and make new friends online, from social media sites to online forums to blogging. If you are not overly confident in your technical abilities, many libraries offer courses for people wanting to explore the world wide web.

5. REACH OUT TO LOST FRIENDS

Have you lost touch with friends over the years? Instead of trying to build new friendships from scratch, you may find it easier to try to reconnect with faces from your past.

SEE YA LATER stretch marks!

Stretch marks typically occur when your skin quickly changes shape owing to growth or weight gain. Although not usually a sign of ill health, stretch marks can make you feel self-conscious and can affect your overall self-esteem. Discover how to banish them below.

VITAMIN A SKINCARE: Vitamin A, also known as retinol, is a key ingredient in many anti-ageing skincare products owing to its ability to make the skin appear smoother and more youthful. Studies have also shown it to be promising in helping stretch marks appear smaller and less severe.

HYALURONIC ACID: Hyaluronic acid is known for having moisturising and healing properties, which makes it an ideal skincare ingredient for reducing the appearance of stretch marks. It can also help to improve the elasticity of your skin.

MICRODERMABRASION: Microdermabrasion involves exfoliating the skin using a handheld wand and an abrasive substance. Touted as one of the most effective treatments for getting rid of stretch marks, microdermabrasion is carried out by a dermatologist.

LASER THERAPY: As the name suggests, laser therapy uses lasers to deliver focused light to the skin, which can help to boost collagen production and fade stretch marks. Multiple sessions are usually needed before you start to see any effects.

CHEMICAL PEELS: Chemical peels provide a deep exfoliation of the skin and also help to stimulate collagen production, both of which can be beneficial in reducing the appearance of stretch marks. You can get both professional chemical peels that are carried out by a dermatologist and ones that you apply at home.

ALOE VERA: If you prefer to try a more natural remedy for stretch marks, aloe vera gel has healing properties which can help to fade redness and marks on the skin. Opt for pure aloe vera gel for optimum results.

How to Bakewell

National Bakewell Tart Day falls on August 11 this year. But let's face it, any day is a great day to enjoy this delicious treat.

Legend has it that these lovelies originated in Bakewell, Derbyshire, in the 1860s. A pub landlady asked a member of staff to make a jam tart, but instead of mixing the almonds and eggs into the pastry, the cook poured the mixture on top. The result was a baking sensation. So much so that a local lady got hold of the recipe and made a handsome living off the back of it. It's a great story. However, the recipe had apparently already featured in a cookbook published 15 years previously.

Food historians also squabble over the tart's topping. Viewers of The Great British Bake Off took to social media to share their outrage when the bakers decorated their tarts with white icing and glacé cherries. Your traditional Bakewells are apparently topped with just a smattering of flaked almonds. Those other ones are Cherry Bakewells.

THE RECIPE

Ingredients for shortcrust pastry base:

- 175g plain flour
- 75g cold butter
- 55ml water

Ingredients for filling:

- 1 tbsp raspberry jam
- 125g butter
- 125g caster sugar
- 125g ground almonds
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ tsp almond extract
- 50g flaked almonds

Method:

Make the shortcrust pastry in the normal way and use it to line a 20-cm flan tin. Chill for 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 200°C/180°C fan/gas mark 6. Bake blind (using foil and baking beans) for 15 minutes. Remove beans and foil and bake for another 5 minutes. Spread the jam all over the base. Melt the butter. Then stir in the sugar, ground almonds, egg and almond extract. Pour the mixture into the tin over the pastry and sprinkle over the flaked almonds. Bake for 30-35 minutes (cover with foil if the almonds are browning too quickly). Chill and enjoy.

Go crazy for COURGETTE

Incredibly underrated, the humble courgette is in abundance this month, so why not step outside your veg comfort zone and try one of these tasty and nutritious courgette recipes?

COURGETTE PIZZA

Pizza is a family favourite in most households, but there are several ways that you can incorporate courgette into a pizza. Thinly slice and use as a topping, make some courgette pizza boats, or bake your own courgette pizza base using the below recipe.

You will need: 3 medium grated courgettes | 30g cornflour | 2 cloves crushed garlic | 1 large egg | 300g shredded mozzarella | 50g parmesan

How to make: Add the courgette, egg, garlic, cheese and cornflour to a bowl, mix and season with salt and pepper | Stir until completely combined and make into a dough | Transfer to a baking tray lined with parchment and pat into a crust | Bake for 25 minutes at 230°C/210°C fan/gas mark 8 until golden | Add your preferred toppings and bake for a further 10 minutes.

COURGETTE FRITTERS

For fussy kids who don't like to eat their greens, this is a simple dish that allows you to sneak in one of their five-a-day with ease.

You will need: 2 medium courgettes | 2 tbsp self-raising flour | 25g parmesan or vegan alternative | 1 tbsp olive oil

How to make: Grate the courgette and combine in a bowl with the flour and cheese | Shape into walnut-sized balls and then flatten | Heat a non-stick frying pan over a medium heat and add the oil | Fry each fritter for 2-3 mins on each side until golden.

COURGETTE NOODLES

If you are looking for a low-carb version of spaghetti, then courgette noodles are a great idea. All you need is a julienne peeler or a spiralizer to cut your courgettes into courgetti.

You will need: 2 medium courgettes | 2 cloves garlic | Zest of 1 lemon | 150g crème fraîche

How to make: Add your courgetti to a hot pan with oil | Add all the other ingredients | Cook for 2-3 minutes | Serve as you would spaghetti with ragu or a tomato sauce.

Banjo Beale INTERIOR DESIGN WHIZZ AND HIS DRIVE FOR DESIGN

Anyone who has seen the BBC's Interior Design Masters series will have been wowed by the verve, voracity and vision of some of the country's most impressive amateur interior designers.

The series was eventually won by sparky designer Banjo Beale, and the Australian revealed after the show that he employs an unconventional technique when it comes to styling the perfect space.

"I still feel like a fraud when it comes to colour," he said. "I always picked my colour last. I don't know if that's what interior designers do, but because I'm a collector and curator first, I like to take a step back and look at my pieces, then pick a colour that might tie it all together."

Beale's confession, that his priority in a room is always to provide a base of variety and personality that inspires and entertains the mind, may not be a first for interior design, but it's an original perspective as far as the expected norm of makeover shows goes. Previously, there has been an almost assumed start point that the colour of a room is the first thing, not the last, that's decided upon.

Subverting that expectation not only meant the visionary won first prize, but it has also set him on the path to potentially a full-time career in the design world from his sleepy home on the Isle of Mull in Scotland.

He added: "I always say interior design is 99 per cent logistics and one per cent design, and through the contest hopefully I've given others the chance to look at projects from a different angle too. It's been a brilliant ride."

Praying for REINVENTION

MONASTERIES FINDING NEW LIFE THROUGH SENSITIVE REINVENTION

When we say it, there may just be something godlike about the way British designer John Pawson has masterminded an incredible range of renovations across Europe.

The realities of religion's dwindling appeal (at least in the sense of parishioners needing to congregate in a towering space) has created an availability of incredible buildings – churches, monasteries and more – the sensitive reinvention of which into extraordinary, iconic hotels has certainly saved them from disrepair and, in some cases, total collapse.

Pawson represents a breed of architects taking the best traditional features and enveloping these former religious spaces in a veil of luxury and style.

With huge ceilings, elegant windows, sumptuous arches and a wondrous feeling of space and freedom, these are structures so extroverted and unrestrained that they would never make it past first base were they designed as hotel spaces from scratch today.

Pawson says the technique used is almost at odds with itself. "You need to accentuate what is already a huge space," he says, "yet at the same time be respectful and cautious that you are not interfering with the sensibilities of generations who have gone there for comfort and solace."

"I think if we were turning these buildings into nightclubs or shopping precincts, we may encounter more pullback, but the reality is we're repurposing them with a similar goal – to offer those who go there calm, hope and mindfulness."

From the Jaffa Hotel in Tel Aviv to the conversion of an old chapel in Antwerp by Belgian architect Vincent Van Duysen, to all manner of ecclesiastical bases across famously religious countries like Italy and Romania, the sweeping tide of change is creating incredible travel experiences for those on a pilgrimage looking to try something a little different.

Marvellous MARBLE

Marble accessories for the home have never been more popular, yet they can be expensive to buy. So why not make your own at home?

Check out our simple guide to marbling and start upcycling your household items today.

WHAT KINDS OF OBJECTS CAN YOU MARBLE?

One of the best things about marbling is that it works on almost any material. You can marble wrapping paper, Christmas baubles, coasters, candle jars, plant pots and so much more. If you are new to marbling, it can be a good idea to practise on paper first.

WHAT YOU WILL NEED TO MARBLE AT HOME

2 x marbling inks or nail polishes in different colours | A tray (plastic or metal) or a bowl | A waterproof tablecloth | Water | A cocktail stick | Your chosen item

HOW TO MARBLE AT HOME

1. Cover your table with a waterproof tablecloth to protect it.
2. Next, fill your tray or bowl with room-temperature water two-thirds of the way up.
3. Pour a small amount of ink or nail polish across the surface of the water, swirling in a zigzag shape.
4. Repeat with your second ink or nail polish, layering the new colour on top of the other.
5. If you are using marbling ink, use a cocktail stick to mix the colours together.
6. Place your chosen item on top of the water and ink mix and then fully submerge it.
7. Gently pull it out and leave to dry – this can take up to 24 hours depending on the item.

TOP TIPS FOR MARBLING AT HOME

- > Wear gloves
- > Dip quickly as marbling inks don't take long to set
- > Pick your colour combinations carefully
- > Use one marbling solution per object
- > 3D items should be dipped in a bowl that is deep enough for the object rather than a tray, and may require double-dipping
- > Don't be afraid to experiment with more than two marbling ink colours.

Dish the DIRT

Is your glassware looking grubby? Your dishes a little dirty? If the answer is yes, this could be because your dishwasher is in dire need of a deep clean.

HOW TO CLEAN YOUR DISHWASHER

1. DO A DEEP CLEAN

Once a month, give your dishwasher a deep clean. Fill a bowl with one cup of lemon juice or one cup of white vinegar, place it on the top rack and then run your machine on an empty cycle. This will help to banish bad odours, counteract the effects of hard water and keep your dishes sparkling clean.

2. CLEAN THE SPINNING ARMS

Dishwashers work by spraying out water from their spinning arms, so if these are not working properly or they are full of dirt and debris, then they will not be able to effectively clean your dishes. You can remove any build-up with a toothpick or small pair of pliers.

3. CLEAN THE FILTERS

Over time, the filters in your dishwasher can become clogged, which means your appliance is not able to clean as efficiently as it should. To remedy this, remove the filters, rinse with hot water and replace. Do this monthly for best results.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR DISHWASHER PERFORMING AT ITS BEST

- > Use it regularly – at least once a week to keep the motor seals working
- > Scrape food off your plates but do not pre-rinse
- > Clean the seals after each use
- > Keep your rinse aid reservoir full
- > Do not overcrowd or overload your appliance
- > Use a high-quality dishwashing detergent.

THE WORST COLOURS TO USE IN YOUR BATHROOM (AND THE BEST)

Decorating a bathroom can be tricky, as you need to create a space that is restorative, practical and stylish. When it comes to colour schemes, there are certain colours that you should avoid at all costs.

PEACH

The colour peach can make a bathroom feel both outdated and unappealing. It may also make you want to spend less time in the room owing to its ability to decrease energy and make a space feel uninviting.

RED

You don't see many red bathrooms, and there is a good reason for this. While this vibrant shade can bring about feelings of empowerment, it is not very good for creating a relaxing atmosphere, which is paramount in a bathroom.

OLIVE GREEN

Although green bathrooms are becoming increasingly popular, you need to make sure you select the right shade of green. While dark greens such as forest green and bottle green can create a great contrast with white bathroom furniture, olive greens can make the space look drab and dull.

GOLD

Goldish yellow and beige colours are a big commitment for a bathroom as it can be hard to find tiles and finishings that go with these tones. These shades also date quickly, so you may find yourself having to redecorate sooner than you would like.

BROWN

As you might expect, brown is not a great choice of colour for a bathroom. Not only can it create dark corners which can make it more difficult to clean, but it is also not very visually appealing.

BEST COLOURS FOR BATHROOM

- > Rich greens – these are bold and provide a fresh and vibrant feel.
- > Black – this can add contrast and depth when paired with a lighter colour.
- > Blue-grey – this is airy and tranquil without being overpowering.

DIY NATURAL DUSTING SPRAYS

Did you know that dusting sprays contain toxic ingredients that are bad for the environment and your health? Fortunately, there are several natural alternatives that promise to banish dust without any negative side effects. Plus, all you need is a few storecupboard staples to make them.

DIY CITRUS SPRAY

Ideal for all types of surfaces, this homemade citrus spray will eliminate dust and make your home smell wonderful.

You will need:

1 cup water | ¼ cup white vinegar | 2 tsp olive oil | 10-15 drops orange essential oil

Pour all the above ingredients into a spray bottle and shake vigorously.

DIY VINEGAR SPRAY

The simplest DIY dusting spray available, vinegar is a versatile all-purpose cleaner which cuts through grime and acts as a disinfectant. Ideal for use in the kitchen and bathroom.

You will need:

½ cup water | ½ cup white vinegar

Add both to a spray bottle, shake, and spray where desired.

DIY ESSENTIAL OILS SPRAY

Similar to the citrus spray, this DIY recipe will effectively get rid of any dust and fill your home with lovely scents.

This spray is perfect for creating a relaxing vibe in the bedroom.

You will need:

1 cup water | ½ cup of witch hazel or vinegar | 1 tbsp olive or sunflower oil | 1 tbsp unscented liquid soap | 15 drops of lemon essential oil | 1 drop tea tree oil

Add all ingredients to a spray bottle and shake vigorously.

DIY WOOD DUSTING SPRAY

This DIY dusting spray is specially designed for use on wooden surfaces and will effectively remove both dust and dirt.

You will need:

1 cup water | ½ cup vinegar | 2 tbsp olive, sunflower or grapeseed oil | 10 drops lemon essential oil | 5 drops cedarwood essential oil

Mix the ingredients together in a spray bottle and spray directly onto any wooden item or surface.

Once sprayed, all of the above DIY dusting sprays should be wiped with a clean cloth, preferably a microfibre one.

KHAN'T stop Adil

ADIL RAY OBE CELEBRATES 25 YEARS IN THE ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY

We're in an era where some claim the path for ethnic minorities is blocked by prejudice, bias, racism and more. Adil Ray OBE, the DJ, presenter, scriptwriter and unashamed cricket fanatic, is one man who roundly disputes that assumption.

In fairness, the 48 year old need only look at the success of his own career to see how a constant battle to innovate, inform and enthuse an audience will not only create great TV or radio, it will also keep an ambitious career moving forward.

"I'm not blind enough to suggest there aren't challenges for a lot of people in our society, pretty much all across the board," begins Adil, "and that applies to indigenous members of the population too.

"Yet my own experiences are that if you are original, open, confident and malleable to the norm while also looking to push beyond it, you really can get on, and when that happens, life gets exciting."

Adil kicked off an impressive voyage through the entertainment world in pirate radio during his degree at the University of Huddersfield. Before graduating with a 2:1 in marketing in 1997, the son of a Pakistani father and Kenyan mother had already landed a gig with Choice FM, and he was swiftly to move on to Galaxy 105, Century Radio in Manchester, and Ministry of Sound.

Things really began to accelerate when he joined BBC Asian Network in 2002, with the station having just gone digital to a nationwide audience. His award-winning stint included hosting the Breakfast Show and led him to BBC 5 Live, where he quickly worked his way across to TV projects, with presenting duties on The One Show, as well as taking on a number of documentary commissions, notably about community, Asian integration and, of course, cricket.

Versatility had always been at the heart of what Adil preached, and back in 2012 he co-wrote the comedy Citizen Khan, featuring central character Mr Khan and his long-suffering family. The sitcom was taken up by the BBC and went primetime, and to date has returned for five series and 34 episodes, clinching four Royal Television Society Awards along the way.

In recent times, Adil has switched allegiance to ITV, filling in for former host Piers Morgan on Good Morning Britain and, as if to push his versatility even further, has entered the space of quiz show host, as in 2021 he began fronting Lingo.

Fans of the cult word game Wordle, which has gone viral over the past year, will recognise the format, where contestants have to identify a word using correctly and incorrectly placed letters from past attempts.

"I've always loved words and wordplay, so this one has fitted into my portfolio nicely, to be honest," laughs Adil.

"Mostly, what interests me is moving forward with new ideas. I've still got a big box of them at home – most are rubbish, but you only need to get one right, and that could lead to a lucky break.

"TV execs these days are looking for something a bit different. Shock factor will work, for a while at least, but courage and charisma will always carry people forward the furthest."

Council reveals plan for temporary town car park

Plans have been put in place to install a temporary car park in Epping town centre while a new one is being constructed.

The new Cottis Lane multistorey car park will offer an improvement on former parking facilities in Epping and will have capacity for 330 cars once constructed. In the meantime, Qualis Commercial is providing 47 temporary parking spaces within St John's.

Epping Forest District Council (EFDC) has also confirmed plans to provide parking space off the High Street for market traders on a Monday to park their vehicles.

Councillor Chris Whitbread, Leader of EFDC (pictured bottom, far left), said: "We are pleased they have been able to find this temporary solution. Cottis Lane marks the start of the exciting redevelopment proposals for the town and, once complete, will make way for the new leisure centre to be built."

Simon Rutter, managing director of Qualis Commercial, said: "We have worked hard to be able to provide an area of temporary parking. In addition, we continue to talk to the owners of other car parks in the town to explore all alternatives while the works at Cottis Lane take place."

MP shows support for employment scheme

Dame Eleanor Laing, MP for Epping Forest (pictured above), has urged local businesses to join an initiative that helps adults with learning disabilities and autism achieve paid employment.

The Inclusive Employment project is a collaboration between local care provider ECL and Essex County Council.

The service finds employment opportunities for adults with a learning disability or autism, and works to change employers' attitudes towards inclusive recruitment.

Dame Eleanor MP said: "Inclusive Employment isn't about creating a role to fit the individual so that an organisation can 'check a box' and say that it's an inclusive recruiter.

"It's about matching people with learning disabilities and autism with real job opportunities that allow them to make the most of their skills. This benefits the individuals and employers equally in a variety of ways.

"The employee gains independence and gets a level of job satisfaction that enhances confidence and provides a sense of purpose.

"I encourage all businesses in the area to become inclusive employers."

Any local businesses interested in taking part should email inclusive.employment@essexcares.org

Public consultation on plans for 11,400 homes

A consultation will launch this month on Epping Forest District Council's (EFDC) Local Plan, which could see 11,400 homes built in the area by 2033.

Local Plans are blueprints that councils are required to make, which set out how they will meet the government's housing targets.

The six-week public consultation will take place ahead of a final decision on the plan by Essex County Council in the autumn.

The plan is also subject to approval by planning inspector Jonathan Bore, who will have to determine if a five-year housing land supply will be available when the plan is adopted.

EFDC has been working on the Local Plan for more than a decade.

At a cabinet meeting on July 19, council officer Nigel Richardson said: "We will get there one day. We're going to be required to do some further consultation on main modifications, but just to make it clear, officers are working very hard to deal with some of the questions that inspector Bore has raised."

Following the consultation, councillors will vote on whether or not to adopt the plan.

Popular annual fun day praised as a success

A popular annual community fun day returned to Epping last month and proved to be a resounding success.

Epping Town Show took place at Stonards Hill Recreation Ground on July 3 and featured a wide range of stalls and activities, including circus skills, donkey rides, face painting, a dog agility area, model railways, tarot reading and an art display.

Councillor Barbara Scruton, Deputy Town Mayor, said: "We had a lovely day. The weather was great and lots of people came and enjoyed the day.

"Using the car parks at St Margaret's Hospital helped and thank you to them for giving the town council permission.

"Thank you to the volunteers who supported the town council, including the Rotary Club of Epping, who looked after the hospital car park. Many thanks to Mullucks Estate Agents who loaned letting boards and supplied promotional leaflets.

"Thank you to the RAF for the Hurricane flypast which took place just after 1pm. Thank you to everyone who took part and came."

LOCAL NEWS THEYDON

Theatre company to perform at popular festival

A local theatre company travelled to Scotland earlier this month to perform at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival after debuting its show in Theydon Bois.

Early Mornings Productions, who recently held its debut performance of Alan Turing: A Musical Biography at Theydon Bois Village Hall on Sunday, July 17, have taken the same show to Edinburgh as part of the prestigious celebration of arts and culture.

The musical, written by Joel Goodman (pictured centre) and Jan Osborne, explores the life of Alan Turing, a mathematician who helped to design a code-breaking machine that was vital to the Allies' success in the Second World War. The play also examines the injustice that gay men have faced in the UK, as Turing was convicted of gross indecency after authorities found out he was gay and was forced to undergo hormone therapy.

Joel said: "I wrote about Alan Turing as his role in the war fascinates me; the secretive nature of Alan's work and the fact that nobody knew about the role he played against Hitler, which brought the war to an early end and saved countless lives."

Joel hopes to inspire performers to be proactive and make their own work, as well as to remind audiences that discrimination should never be tolerated.

Epping Forest District councillor Holly Whitbread attended the Theydon Bois debut and took to Twitter to praise the show.

She wrote: "It was fantastic to attend the premiere of Alan Turing: A Musical Biography by Early Mornings at Theydon Bois Village Hall. The musical is a journey through the life of Alan Turing – what he achieved and the challenges faced by society."

The company is performing at the Paradise in the Vault (Venue 29) in Edinburgh from August 6 to 20, with a number of its shows selling out weeks in advance.

Young cricket team triumphs in district cup

Theydon Bois Under 14s cricket team have won the West Essex District cup.

The competition, consisting of five teams, saw the local boys see off opposition from Stansted Hall & Elsenham, High Roding and Dunmow before playing Wenden and High Roding again in a round-robin-style finals day.

The team, coached by Jacques van Rensburg and Phil Trevett, won their final match by 59 runs, with Toby Trevett accumulating an impressive 180 runs during the competition. Both Charlie Ward and Jayden Poole took eight wickets each and all of Theydon's players took at least one wicket on the final day.

Toby said: "We are delighted to have won the cup for Theydon Bois. All the squad played really well across the games, and we want to thank the coaches and parents for their support. I'd especially like to thank Warren Hyde for his work with us over many years."

Petina Trevett, Theydon Bois team manager, said: "The boys are so dedicated to their cricket and it is such a reward to see their friendship and teamwork all coming together this season. Their behaviour on the day did the village of Theydon Bois proud."

The team consisted of Sam Barnes, George Cowell, Theo Cowell, J-P Dolan, Thomas Duffy, Leo Flood, Davy Heys, Max Marsden, Alfie Moore, Joe Oates, Jayden Poole, Devan van Rensburg, Toby Trevett, Charlie Ward and Rocco Withey.

Residents urged to avoid non-essential water use

Essex-based Affinity Water has issued a warning to Theydon residents to limit their water usage.

As temperatures across the UK reached record levels last month, water companies have been put under immense pressure as usage continues to rise.

The supplier has said that the UK has gone from using 209 million gallons a day to using 242 million gallons a day.

A spokesperson for Affinity Water said: "To make sure we have enough water to go around for drinking, washing and cooking, we're appealing to customers to avoid all non-essential water use, such as hosepipes and sprinklers."

Grahame Madge, a spokesperson for the Met Office, said the red weather warning last month was "potentially a very serious situation".

He added: "[Forty degrees] is exceptionally hot. The sort of temperatures that if you are on holiday, you may be able to deal with, but in day-to-day life it can have severe impacts on health."

Donkey Derby returns with family-friendly entertainment

The Theydon Bois Donkey Derby returned last month for its 30th anniversary.

Dame Eleanor Laing, MP for Epping Forest, praised all those involved in the return of the event, which took place on the Green on July 10 for the first time since the COVID-19 pandemic began.

Dame Eleanor MP, who opened the event, said: "It was great to see the community come together once again and support the event, which has been a regular fixture in the village's calendar for decades."

"A big thank you to the organising committee and the Scouts and Guides for all their hard work in ensuring the Donkey Derby was able to be held this year."

The event, which was sponsored by local businesses, also featured a funfair and other family-friendly entertainment.

DOGGIE language

FIVE THINGS YOUR DOG IS REALLY TRYING TO TELL YOU

Think that panting means they are thirsty? That rolling over means they want their belly scratched? Read on to discover five canine behaviours that owners often misinterpret.

1. TAIL WAGGING

If your dog wags their tail, you may automatically think that they are happy or excited. However, this can also be a sign that they are frustrated or overstimulated. If your dog holds their tail up high, this could be because they are feeling confident or aroused.

2. TEETH CHATTERING

While teeth chattering in humans most often means they are cold, in dogs this indicates something completely different. In most cases, teeth chattering in dogs is a sign of a dental health problem such as an abscessed tooth or periodontitis. It can also be a sign of anxiety.

3. LICKING THEIR LIPS

Although this could indicate that they are looking forward to a meal, licking their lips could mean that your dog feels sick or afraid. It can also be because they are nervous about something, with dogs licking their lips as a sign of appeasement to avoid injury.

4. EXPOSING THEIR BELLY

Do you always assume your dog wants their belly rubbed when they lie on their back and expose their stomach? Although this may sometimes be the case, it can also indicate that they are feeling nervous or threatened, which may result in aggressive behaviour if you touch them.

5. PANTING

While you may think that panting means that your dog is overheated, it can also be a sign of stress. If your dog is panting and they do not seem hot or tired, then try to identify any triggers that could be causing them stress or anxiety and look to avoid these.

GARDENING

FREE flowers

August is the perfect month to collect seeds from your garden plants so you can sow them next spring and enjoy them all over again. It's simple and quick to do – all you need is some secateurs or sharp scissors, a few paper bags and some envelopes. And it costs you absolutely nothing.

Some seeds are easier to collect and grow than others. Annual plants are ideal because they produce lots of seeds.

Here's a list of some of the best: Allium | Aquilegia | Cleomes | Dahlias | Larkspur | Marigolds | Morning Glory | Nasturtiums | Petunias | Poppies | Snapdragons

When you're planning to collect your seeds, choose a dry day. Seeds definitely don't like getting damp. And make sure it's not too breezy, or your seeds could blow away before you catch them.

Now let's get started. All you do is trap the seed head or pod in your paper bag and snip it off the plant. Before you do this, write the name of the plant on the bag. You might think you'll remember, but often this isn't so.

When you're done and back inside, tip the seed heads onto a piece of plain white paper or kitchen towel. Remove any bugs or debris and check the seeds are completely dry. Then tip them carefully into named envelopes and keep them somewhere cool and dry. For something a little special – a great idea if you're going to give them as gifts or swap them with friends or family – why not decorate the envelopes?

Remember, it's usually better to choose heirloom, open-pollinated plants rather than hybrids. This is because the seeds of hybrids won't usually produce plants identical to their parents – not that it isn't fun to experiment.

Happy gardening!

DIY SUMMER GARDEN GAMES

FOUR GARDEN GAMES YOU CAN MAKE FOR YOUR KIDS TO ENJOY THIS SUMMER

Worried about how you are going to keep the kids entertained all summer long? Check out the below DIY garden games that you'll have fun making and children will love playing with.

JUMBO KERPLUNK

You will need:

A bucket | Cage mesh or tomato plant cages | 2 wooden planks | Wooden sticks | Soft play balls

How to make:

- > Roll the mesh into a cylinder and secure with black tape.
- > Place the two planks on top of the bucket and rest the mesh cylinder on them.
- > Push the wooden sticks through the holes in the mesh.
- > Fill with coloured balls.

GIANT LAWN DOMINOES

You will need:

28 ft of 2-inch x 6-inch wood board | Chalk paint | Saw | Hand sander | White paint

How to make:

- > Cut the wood into 28 individual dominoes and sand down to prevent splinters.
- > Paint using chalk paint.
- > Paint on the dots using the white paint.
- > Leave to dry.

POOL NOODLE TENNIS

To make two rackets you will need:

2 foam pool noodles | Mesh vegetable or fruit bag | Duct tape | Lightweight sponge rubber ball

How to make:

- > Cut off 4 inches from one end of each noodle.
- > Make an angled cut on each end.
- > Fold the noodle so that the two angled cuts meet to make the head of the racket and secure with duct tape.
- > Use one of your 4-inch cut-offs to create a handle by securing to the base of the racket head with duct tape.
- > Insert the noodle racket into the mesh bag and secure with more duct tape.

BOTTLE RING TOSS

You will need:

10 glass bottles (wine, milk, etc) | 6 wooden rings or bangles | Bottle crate | If you would like to paint the bottles you will also need gloss paint and a paintbrush

How to make:

- > Remove all the labels from the recycled bottles.
- > If you wish, paint each bottle in a bright colour and leave to dry.
- > Place the bottles in the crate.

Ring MY BELL!

The inventor of the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, who died in Canada 100 years ago this month, was born in Edinburgh in 1847. In his early twenties, he moved with his parents to Canada. He'd just recovered from tuberculosis, which had killed both his brothers, and his parents were desperate to move to a healthier environment.

After a few years in Canada, Bell settled in Boston. And in 1875, he and his American business partner, Thomas Watson, invented a simple telephone. The machine converted sound into an electrical signal. This signal travelled down a wire to a receiver, which converted it back into sound.

In 1876, Bell was granted the first telephone patent for his machine, giving him the exclusive rights to the technology. But this caused something of a commotion because several other scientists said they'd invented the phone before him. In fact, Bell faced more than 500 court challenges in 20 years – but none were successful.

Surprisingly, Bell was a distinctly average school pupil even though he loved solving problems. His mother was deaf and his father was a linguistics professor, which without doubt triggered the young Bell's interest in sound and communication. Using a system devised by his father, he taught deaf children. And like his father, he married a deaf woman.

The Bell Telephone Company he established in 1877 eventually became the Dallas-based multinational known as AT&T, now the largest telecoms company in the world.

As well as the telephone, Bell invented several devices, including a rudimentary metal detector, a hydrofoil, an early version of an iron lung and a photophone, which transmitted the human voice over wavelengths of light.

Bell's main invention made him wealthy, but he sold most of his company shares early on. Like many inventors, after successfully developing one idea, he wanted to move on to the next.

FANCY BUYING A

BEACH HUT?

According to recent statistics, beach huts are now one of the most popular property purchases in the UK. However, are they really a good investment? Discover the pros and cons of buying a beach hut below.

PROS OF BUYING A BEACH HUT

✓ Access to prime coastal locations

If you love going to the beach when holidaying in the UK, then a beach hut can give you access to stunning beach spots without the need to lug your belongings back and forth each day.

✓ Income from summer rentals

Renting out a beach hut to tourists during the summer months offers a great way to earn a little bit of extra cash. This is particularly true if you live near a popular holiday destination.

✓ Enjoy the outdoors

Beach huts are not just for summer; you can enjoy them all year round so you and your family can get out in the fresh air and away from screens.

✓ A solid investment

Beach huts are in short supply in the UK, despite them being high in demand. This means that they tend to hold their value over the long term.

CONS OF BUYING A BEACH HUT

✗ High maintenance costs

As beach huts are located near the coast, they are more susceptible to damage from harsh weather conditions such as heavy rain and strong winds, as well as the close proximity to sea water. This can mean higher maintenance costs than other types of properties.

✗ Limited space and facilities

Beach huts are typically small, which means there is not a lot of space to store your belongings. Also, some do not have basic facilities such as water and electricity.

✗ Seasonal availability

Some local councils only permit the use of beach huts during the summer months, which means you get less use out of your investment.

BEGINNER'S GUIDE TO BUYING RETURN PALLETS

Scouted as an easy way to make money fast, flipping return pallets has suddenly soared in popularity.

But is it as simple as everyone makes out, and can you really make a profit? Let's take a closer look.

WHAT IS A RETURN PALLET?

A return pallet, as the name suggests, is a pallet of returned goods, although you can also get pallets that contain end-of-line goods and clearance products. These are sold at highly discounted prices and are typically organised by category, lot size, brands, retailers and location.

HOW CAN YOU MAKE MONEY BUYING RETURN PALLETS?

- > Buy in bulk: Typically, the more you are able to buy, the cheaper the cost. However, bear in mind that you will need somewhere to store the goods.
- > Stick to what you know: When choosing pallets, make sure you pick product categories that you are already knowledgeable about. It can also be a good idea to carry out research about the value of items before you buy.
- > Track your goods: To maximise your return on your investment, keep track of the goods in your pallets, including name and brand, item condition, RRP and resale price, and the amount the product sold for.

IS PALLET FLIPPING WORTH IT?

Most return pallets include thousands of pounds of products for a fraction of their original cost. However, as with any get-rich-quick scheme, there are risks involved. In most cases, you don't know exactly what you are buying, and you have to be prepared to put in the work as you won't sell everything overnight.

WHERE CAN I BUY A RETURN PALLET IN THE UK?

Most major retailers sell return pallets, including Amazon, Very and eBay.

You can also buy return pallets on the below websites:

- > marthill.co.uk

HERITAGE

OPEN DAYS THIS SEPTEMBER

TRAVEL

Are you keen to find out more about England's rich history and culture? Heritage Open Days brings together more than 2,000 local organisations, as well as tens of thousands of volunteers, to celebrate what makes our great country unique.

WHAT IS HERITAGE OPEN DAYS?

Heritage Open Days is England's largest grassroots festival which brings together people from all over the country to celebrate their heritage, community and history. Offering a chance to explore new places and try new experiences without needing to travel far from your home, in 2022 you can expect more than 5,500 local events across England.

WHERE DOES IT TAKE PLACE?

Each year, a huge variety of venues take part in Heritage Open Days, including: country houses, collieries, museums, gardens, country parks and more. Events can showcase re-enactments, treasure hunts, film screenings, walks, street festivals, and food and drink tasting sessions. You can find your nearest event on the Heritage Open Days website at www.heritageopendays.org.uk by simply entering your postcode.

WHEN DOES IT TAKE PLACE?

This year, Heritage Open Days takes place between September 9 and 18. Coordinated by the National Trust and with support from the People's Postcode Lottery, all participating venues are completely free.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

If you would like to volunteer to be an organiser in your local area, you can register your interest at www.heritageopendays.org.uk. Some areas may already have a local coordinator who can help you with the registration process.

HERITAGE OPEN DAYS TO VISIT:

- > British Vintage Wireless and Television Museum – September 10 and 11, Greater London
- > Buckland Abbey, Garden and Estate – September 10 and 17, Devon
- > Heritage Day and Classic Car Rally – September 11, Greater London
- > Bobbit's Hole Nature Reserve – September 11 and 18, Essex
- > St Michael Tilehurst – A Celebration of Church Bell Ringing – September 17, Berkshire
- > Electra Boat Heritage Weekend Adult and Family Talks – September 17, Buckinghamshire

Enter NEOM McLaren

MCLAREN THROWS ITS WEIGHT BEHIND THE ELECTRIC CAR REVOLUTION

You may permit yourself to scoff very quietly when it comes to major car manufacturers rolling out terms such as sustainability, eco-conscience and global change. The motor industry is, after all, responsible for around 30 per cent of the Earth's carbon emissions, so any virtue-signalling pledges should be taken with a pinch of salt.

However, UK manufacturer McLaren is at least aligning strong portions of its competitive arm as it enters the Formula E championship in place of reigning champion Mercedes, who is quitting to focus on road car development.

The switch enables McLaren to take on the progress Mercedes has made so far, as well as claiming the fourth quarter of its competitive motoring proposition – it will now have vehicles racing in Formula E, Extreme E (the off-road spin-off), IndyCar and, of course, Formula 1.

What's more, the team announced a new strategic partnership with NEOM, a sustainable region in northwest Saudi Arabia, with the combined e-teams known as NEOM McLaren Electric Racing.

While leading the charge, literally, in electric car competition may seem like the work of marketing and PR, the truth is that Woking-based McLaren wants to push its competitive research edge as far as possible in creating a car that's great on the track, while adapting an engine that can be used for everyday road vehicles.

Certainly, the efficiencies gained in both specialisms lend faith to the incredible advances that continue to evolve, from the simplicity of quicker charging times and better batteries to the reality that electric sports vehicles are no longer derided or disrespected by fervent racing fans.

In this sense, Mercedes' loss is most definitely McLaren's gain, with Formula E set to make further ground on motor racing's showpiece, F1, this season.

FOOTBALL CAME HOME

England's women's team have done it! In an incredible night of drama, emotion and relief, the Lionesses overcame the mighty Germany to claim the European Championship title for the first time.

It was a final that lived up to the billing – the two best sides in Europe going head-to-head in a showpiece for the women's game – and proof if ever it was needed that the sport's surge in popularity is going to continue.

Mostly though, it cemented one thing: England's women are the Euro 2022 champions.

Not only was the win a first major trophy for this incredible group of ladies; it also went some way to arresting the pain of the 2009 final when the same two teams met. Germany hit England for six that day, and the 2-1 victory 13 years on was particularly sweet for Jill Scott MBE, the sole survivor from that Helsinki massacre.

On the day, goals from Ella Toone and Chloe Kelly

– the second coming just 10 minutes before the end of extra time – made history in front of more than 87,000 spectators at Wembley and 17.4 million people watching at home.

So much of the credit has to go to Three Lions' Dutch coach Sarina Wiegman. In August 2020, the English Football Association broke new ground with their appointment of the first non-British permanent manager of the women's national football team.

Wiegman was already a Euros champ with her home nation, and the 52 year old's impeccable record with both the Netherlands and England at the Euros – six match victories with each and the winners' trophy on both occasions – has taken us to the very top of a sport that's never been at a higher tide.

As for what comes next – iconic status for Toone, Kelly, the rest of the England team, and the small matter of a World Cup in three years' time.
